Anti-Fraud Law
Any person who knowingly presents false information in an insurance application, or presents, aids or files a fraudulent claim for payment of a loss or other benefit, or presents more than one claim for the same damage or loss, shall incur a felony and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine not less than five thousand (5,000) dollars nor more than ten thousand (10,000) dollars or imprisonment for a fixed term of three (3) years, or both. Should there be aggravating circumstances, the fixed penalty may be increased to a maximum of five (5) years; mediating extenuating circumstances, it may be reduced to a minimum of two (2) years. Failure to comply with the provisions of this Article shall entail the imposition of an administrative fine not to be less than one thousand (1,000) dollars nor more than (5,000) five thousand dollars. Failure to include this notice in the indicated forms do not constitute defense to the insured or third claimant in case of failing to comply with the applicable provisions under the Health Insurance Code of Puerto Rico, L.P.R.A. sec. 27.250.
